ROUSE CONSULTING GROUP, INC. ACQUIRES DCS COMPUTER SERVICES

Moline, IL – Rouse Consulting Group, Inc. (RCG), a leading provider of IT solutions and managed services, has acquired Davenport-based MSP Provider DCS Computer Services in an effort to expand its industry leading support and service to businesses across the Quad City area and beyond.

According to owner Paul Rouse, DCS represents a natural extension of RCG's home market and this, coupled with its talented staff and respected reputation in the industry, is what led to this business decision. With this unification, RCG will be able to offer customers increased technical expertise, services and resources on an even greater scale. DCS's customer base in particular will benefit from expanded service offerings, especially around the area of security.

The acquisition, which was finalized on April 1, will involve a 30 to 45-day transition period where DCS employees will be acclimated into the RCG culture. All operational aspects will be merged within 3-6 months. Employment opportunities have been offered to all DCS employees, who will relocate to RCG's Moline headquarters within the next couple of months. In an effort to make the transition run smoothly, all DCS customers will be notified and introduced to RCG's expansive line of offerings.

"RCG is thrilled to include DCS customers and employees in our managed services organization," said owner Paul Rouse. "DCS's strong reputation and excellent customers base is a perfect fit with RCG's environment and offerings."

"Our goal is to take a well-run organization and complement it with additional tools and services, resulting in a best-in-class operation," he adds. "To the ownership of DCS, we wish Steve Verhille the best of luck as he transitions into retirement and we are thrilled to welcome Tracy Skaggs to the RCG family."
