Rouse Consulting Group, Inc. joins IT industry stimulus pledge to protect jobs and support the economy.

Rouse Consulting Group, Inc. has joined with IT service providers across America to commit to strong economy and job protection values when using stimulus funds. The MSP Stimulus Pledge is a collective of peers and competitors in the IT Services industry committing to using government assistance, including PPP funds, as intended—to keep team members employed and keep the economy moving.

"Our clients are relying upon us now more than ever. The unique challenges of working from home and the "new normal" environment that we face can be very difficult to navigate. Companies are now faced with significantly more security issues and concerns about productivity. The stimulus program bolsters our ability to continue to support those companies that need our help the most. " Says Paul Rouse, President of Rouse Consulting Group.

The MSP Stimulus Pledge brings regional and national competitors together for the greater good of employees, the industry and the business community.

The Pledge

The MSP Stimulus Pledge asks organizations to use stimulus funds to commit to:

- Avoiding layoffs of staff and pay reductions
- Paying bills on time
- Providing no increase in owner's compensation
- Working as partners with our vendors without demanding concessions simply because we can use the leverage of economic conditions
- Running our businesses in a manner that creates a strong foundation for our employees and clients into a new future.
